OBJECTIVE:

To secure a long term position that finds my personality, social, entertainment, management and advertisement skills, beneficial.

PROFILE:

Since the age of 16, I have excelled in customer service. Starting out as a waitress, I made a move as an executive hostess at the private, V.I.P. side of the Salt Lake City International Airport devoting over 10 years of my skills to the movie stars, executives and private corporations who patronized and had special catering and service needs. The next 25 years has found me in a strong position with Utah's entertainment and music industry as a mobile DJ/KJ, a singer and a promoter of other's talents. Running my own business has helped me develop good advertising skills in writing, film making and editing radio and television ads and especially layout for flyers and banners. Being very good at reading people has enabled me to be a great problem solver and has helped build loyal customer relationships for the places I have worked. I also have a zest for life and things that are fun! This has helped me to stay on top in my genre of the entertainment industry for so many years. I am dedicated, honest and loyal. I am very empathetic and have excellent communication skills. However, the thing I know that helps me most of all is the fact that I simply, like people.

POSITIONS HELD:

Manager / Bartender of the Vault Night Club from Sept. 2017 - Jan. 2018 I was asked to Manage with full managerial duties, the night club called The Vault in Price, Utah. I hired and fired, ordered food and alcohol, managed employees and their schedules, made sure employees were adhering to Utah State Liquor Laws, hosted karaoke and dance nights, created weekly events, created graphic and radio ads. The reason for my leaving was due to cut backs in all of the owner's businesses which several managers and key employees were unfortunately laid off.

DJ/ Karaoke from 1991 to present in various clubs, weddings and venues. As this has been a self employment, I have had to build a name for myself and responsible for all ads creations and keeping myself updated with generations of languages and tastes.

Executive Hostess 1983 - 1992 Salt Lake Jet Center - I ran the front desk, taking orders and reservations for pilots and their passengers. Being personable and professional, as the passengers were often times movie stars and entertainers as well as CEO's, was key. It was very important that their experiences at the FBO as well as their stay in Utah was enjoyable since there were five other Fixed Base Operators on the ramp that were extremely competitive. Salt Lake Jet Center was the favorite in that era due to our professional team. My responsibilities were first, making sure there was a good first impression made as well as booking the best hotels, caterers and whatever services for vacations or business meetings were needed. I had to be in tune with Salt Lake City's best places and entertainment. Repeat business was the goal.

ENDORSEMNTS:

“As you first meet TJ, you can’t deny her passion. She’s all about what she’s doing, no matter what it is. As you get to know her, you find behind the board a person who is talented in so many aspects. You know when you hear a great DJ/KJ as patron, but you learn even more how great they are when you experience how they can make you feel like a star. TJ is that person who not only knows what it is to do what she does, but to how to let anyone know how good they are. She’s done that for me personally and I have NO hesitation in giving her my endorsement.”
